

Community Sponsorship Guidelines and Application Form

This short application process will be used by REX for funding support up to a maximum value of $ 2000.

The form will also be used to shortlist larger projects seeking funding for more than $2000. For larger projects and funding requests, REX will provide support to community groups that have limited capacity to complete a more detailed application process.

Guidelines

Applications should:

- be from community based groups, not-for-profit organisations or educational institutions
- be of benefit to the community
- build community capacity or resources and/or improve the environment
- have medium to long term outcomes
- fall within the advertised funding limits set of each sponsorship round

Applications will be viewed favourably if:

- sponsorship contributions can leverage funds from other sources
- projects have multiple benefits
- projects can demonstrate lasting community benefit
- projects would not normally be funded by other groups or agencies

REX will not consider applications that:

- are from commercial entities, political groups or private individuals
- have undeclared conflicts of interest
- do not benefit the community as a whole

Applications will be assessed on the following criteria:

- meet the commitments expressed by REX in their Community Engagement Policy
- demonstrated capacity to successfully achieve desired funding outcomes
- clearly demonstrated community and /or environmental benefit

Applications and the application process will remain confidential.

Successful applicants will be notified in writing.
